Consolidated Operating Results

The results for the nine months ended December 31, 2008 turned out as expected since sales in Europe were favorable while sales in North America and the domestic remained slow.

However, worsening economic circumstances due to the global financial crisis has started to spread since last October. It also affects the financial results of the Company, causing rapid increase of uncertainties.

As a result, net sales for this period reduced by 11.2% to 19,820 million yen. The profit increased by 36.1% to 3,256 million yen, ordinary income rose by 28.8% to 3,325 million yen, and net income gained by 327.5% to 2,174 million yen compared to the same period in the previous year. These are the results of the increase of profits in the European markets and decrease of selling, general and administrative expenses due to the reduction of consignment expenses for maintenance led by the slow market situation in the domestic amusement industry. The significant improvement of net income was recorded because the expenses, such as loss on devaluation of investment in securities and provision for allowance for doubtful accounts had been posted in the same period in the previous year.

Consolidated Financial Forecast

Due to the worldwide financial crisis since last October, the market condition of the Company becomes increasingly uncertain. Demand for the products dropped, which adversely affect the financial results of the Company. However, the full-year financial results and the foreign exchange rates of the North America and Europe segments are nearly fixed because the fiscal year of both subsidiaries ends in December. Therefore, negative effect of the financial crisis to them is limited.

Meanwhile, in the domestic segment, the Company manages to keep the inventory to overseas at the reasonable level. Accordingly, with rapid progress of strong yen, the Company applies 90 yen per U.S. dollar and 115 yen per Euro as the foreign exchange rates used in the forecast from the end of January to the end of March to estimate additional postings of exchange revaluation loss on foreign currency denominated cash, deposits, notes and accounts receivables at the period end. In addition, the Company expects additional costs from the efforts to consolidate business locations and to make proper arrangement of personnel, so as to improve the operational efficiency.

Based on the above mentioned facts, the Company made a downward revision of financial results forecast. The Company forecasted net sales decrease by 2.3% to 25,300 million yen, forecasted operating income declines by 14.2% to 2,830 million yen, forecasted ordinary income decreases by 21.4% to 2,830 million yen, and forecasted net income declines by 24.7% to 1,770 million yen, compared to those in the previous forecast.

Further, depending on the trend of exchange markets and stock market, there is a possibility of posting additional expenses such as exchange revaluation and retirement benefits for employees.

The Company is expected to face an unprecedented severe situation from the fourth quarter. Bearing this in mind, the Company will aim to promote further globalization, drastic reform of business structure and further enhancement of corporate governance by reviewing the medium-term business plan, with a focus on profitability.
